

July Trainers

Mark Johnston

- Handicaps (includes Maiden Handicaps..1/3) (Flat+AW)
- 8 or more runners in race
- Ran 16 or more days ago
- Any odds

	Bets	Wins	Win%	P/L(SP)	Places	Place%	Races	Race%	P/L(BF)	P/L(Pic)	A/E
ALL	85	20	23.53	183.25	38	44.71	70	28.57	262.71	68.33	2.03
2016	39	8	20.51	78.5	15	38.46	30	26.67	126.18	25.5	2.06
2015	20	6	30	51	8	40	16	37.5	61.02	9.96	2.36
2014	26	6	23.08	53.75	15	57.69	24	25	75.51	32.86	1.76

Notes:

- Within the same rules all other months combined are: 63/698,180 p, -192, AE 0.76. July really does stand out somewhat.
- Some caution, as always with monthly angles: From 2003-2013 this angle was 40/371,113p, -7 SP, AE 1.00. At morning prices I suspect you would have made decent profits over that period. Now, the last three years either represent a change in approach from the yard or are just a random occurrence. I am tempted to think the former given there have never been three years like this back to back. But, we shall see.
- The bigger the price the better really. Those sent off 12/1+ are 9/32, 12p, +156 SP, +228 BFSP. BFSP may be the way forward with the biggies.
- The rules...
 - Those that ran 1-15 days ago don't do as well: 47/245,93p, -13, AE 0.98
 - Within the 16+ days runners, in races of 1-7 runners... 9/48,19p, -11, AE 0.92. In general there is not much value and the horses are short prices. You may wish to look at a horse by horse basis but systematically I will discard this time.
- It may also be worth noting the +68 points place profit from the BetFair place markets also!

Something to keep us interested in throughout the month.